

PRINCETON HEAD BRANDS RED FLAG MENACE TO U.S.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—"When the red flag is carried upon our streets it is a menace to our free institutions," declared President John Grier Hibben, of Princeton university, in address today before the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

"Dr. Hibben was emphasizing the obligations of liberty which, he said, the sons of America had established new."

"Through superficial thinking or through emotional frenzy, there are many people who think that where there is restraint of any kind whatsoever there can be no liberty," continued Dr. Hibben. "It would be well for us to recognize the truth that the idea of law is an essential element in the concept of liberty."

"Those who come to us from foreign shores must learn the first lesson of American citizenship, namely that in all matters of personal conduct there is an exact ratio which must be preserved between outer restraint and inner control, that as the outer restraint is lessened the inner control must be increased."

"We must remember at this time that our liberty has been re-established for us at a great price. It has been bought by blood. The rights we enjoy have been secured through the vicarious sacrifices freely offered by heroic souls who have fought and died for us. We must on our part keep faith with the dead, safeguarding the liberty they have won for us, with their lives, maintaining it upon the secure basis of the law of right and justice and daily living to realize the reign of peace and good will toward men."

NEGROES BELIEF FROM METHODIST CENTENARY FUND

Part of It Will Be Used for Improvement of Social, Moral and Religious Conditions Among the Race.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—In commemoration of the founding of the first American Methodist mission by John Stewart, a negro, who carried the gospel to the Wyandotte Indians, the joint centenary committee of the Methodist Episcopal church announces that $3,900,000 of its proposed $5,000,000 "centenary fund," which is to be raised by June 1, 1919, will be devoted to the improvement of social, moral and religious conditions among the negroes of the United States.

There are 1,138 negro Methodist churches in the South and for their betterment a budget of $2,585,675 has been prepared. Part of the money will be used in educating negro pastors along the lines of modern church work and nearly $160,000 will be devoted to building parsonages to illustrate model home conditions to the negroes of the various districts. Demonstration farms also will be established, similar to the one at Brookhaven, Miss., where colored farmers will be taught scientific agriculture. Thirty per cent of Southern negroes are illiterate and schools and lecturers will be employed to reach these.

Since the beginning of the war, it is estimated, more than 50,000 colored workers have migrated from the land of corn and cotton to Northern farms and munition factories. Methodism, according to the statement, intends to provide for the welfare of these negroes, many of whom are members of that faith. The plans include the building of 33 new churches in the North, each of which will aid the negroes to find employment and obtain decent living quarters. Similar provisions will be made to take care of negro women and girls. Courses in cookery and house-keeping for those who were formerly plantation laborers are also contemplated.

St. Mark's M. E. church in Chicago, East Calvary M. E. church in Philadelphia and Park street M. E. church in Cincinnati, have already put some of the centenary program in operation and funds for starting similar work in all parts of the country will be raised during the "drive" next spring.

FLU TAKES TOLL OF MILLIONS BY REGENT EPIDEMIC

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The Spanish influenza epidemic which swept this country during the autumn "stole" millions of the best years of life from America's young men and women. Henry Moir, an insurance authority of this city, declared here.

The average economic loss of active life in each case of death from the malady or its aftermath was at least 25 years, said Mr. Moir, emphasizing the peculiarity of the epidemic, which found most of its victims under 30 years of age, as compared with the average life of 55 and 60 years of persons insured in well-established companies.

Addressing the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, Mr. Moir, who is president of the Actuarial Society of America, described how the epidemic had dislocated the standard mortality experience of the insurance companies in the past 15 years. With no pestilence taking toll of lives in the United States and Canada during that period, he said, the standards of health of persons under 30 were found to be much better than at any recorded time in the past. But the influenza epidemic, causing 85,228 deaths in 18 large cities in eight weeks, or an average of four of every 1,000 of the population, he added, have caused a new element into the situation. Investigation of claims before several large insurance companies, he declared, showed that 12 per cent of the deaths were due to influenza and 87 per cent to pneumonia following influenza. The average age of persons who died of persons over 55 years, as against 30 per cent under 40, and 60 per cent under 35.

From these figures, the actuary said, it was apparent that the age of maximum mortality had been shifted to the right, taking the young and vigorous—those who we expected to undertake much of the world's work. Mr. Moir warned the public that there is no assurance that the danger has passed. "We learned," he said, "that influenza is now revisiting Europe and this time there are indications that it may be more objectionable than the milder form of midsummer. We should therefore take warning from this record and observe watchful care to prevent further infection, since the disease has distinctly decreased and seems to be dying out in this country."

ANTICS IN AIRPLANE FOR WILSON COSTLY

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—For one "zoom," two tailgating divers volplaned and other antics in the air above President Wilson's head as he stood on the George Washington before his departure for France. Lieut. Fred Kelly, crack hurdler from the Pacific coast, has been ordered to remain two weeks on post at the Hazehurst camp.

Lieut. F. L. Pritchard, Kelly's chum, reported this at the dinner of the 124th aerial squadron in Healy's Lieut. Pritchard, who was in the airplane as an observer, said he had been ordered to report to his commanding officer in two weeks.

Lieut. Kelly piloted the machine, and his friend told a World reporter, "zoomed" up from Mitchell field 250 feet or so "zooming." To undress means to strain the plane beyond its tested endurance, "and get away with it." Lieut. Pritchard would not say whether or not they had permission to take out the airplane, but did not conceal that they had no orders for what followed.

When 1,200 feet above the ship, Lieut. Kelly, according to his friend, did a tailspin. Then he came down and passed so close to the ship that President Wilson could return Lieut. Pritchard's salute.

Lieut. Pritchard said Mrs. Wilson became so nervous at the audacious plane act that she went below. The machine circled about the ship and hovered in the air for a few minutes, to the amusement of everyone, especially of the two flyers.

The dislustrament came when they returned to Mitchell field.

"Y" WORKER IN SIBERIA GETS 4 HOURS OF SLEEP

VLADIVOSTOK, Dec. 11.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The Y. M. C. A. secretaries who are accompanying the entente nations in their expedition against the Bolsheviks in Siberia have been compelled to limit their sleep to four hours a day. To undress is a novelty and food goes uneaten because they can not find time to eat.

The Y. M. C. A. secretaries have been working 18 hours a day. Instead of an easy march, throughout the country, the allied expedition developed into a fight mile by mile. First came the Japanese, then the Chinese and supplies were more pressing needs than were photographs, movies and athletic equipment. The demands upon the Y. M. C. A. canteen service were so great that the secretaries ordinarily would have lasted a month were exhausted in a week. Canteen have been sent with each contingent of troops to the farthest possible limit and from them have been distributed free in times of stress, hot tea, coffee, cigarettes, tobacco, chocolate, biscuits, sausage and other useful supplies.

This service the operating Y. M. C. A. to the men in the field. The Japanese soldiers appear to be as fully appreciative as their western counterparts. A report by Secretary Heald says: "By 4 a. m. Japanese soldiers come knocking on the doors of the canteen and no refusal to open quite them. There is no chance for the secretary in charge to sleep after they begin with the day's work in earnest and that is rarely before one the next morning. Secretaries find it impossible to get more than three to four hours sleep nightly. To undress is a novelty and food goes uneaten because they can not find time to eat."

AMERICAN PRIEST SERVES AS PRIVATE

PARIS, Dec. 11.—To Rev. Father Alphonse Biskup, curate of Marie Cele church, Chicago, has fallen the honor of being probably the first Catholic priest from the United States to serve in the ranks of the allies as a private.

The Rev. Father Biskup is now "Private" Biskup of the Czechoslovak legion, and has taken part in several engagements with the boche. When the United States entered the war the Rev. Father Biskup tried to enlist in the United States army, as a regular chaplain, and when he failed in that effort he enrolled as a volunteer with the Knights of Columbus and landed in France as a volunteer chaplain. As his parents are of Czech nationality, although American citizens, he tried to get in the Czechoslovak legion here, but found he could not do so as a Knights of Columbus chaplain, because the Czechs are serving as part of the French forces. He obtained permission from the Knights to enlist in the Czech legion, and at once did so. "Private" Biskup, when he visited the headquarters of the Knights of Columbus in this city the other day to obtain supplies for the men of his regiment, told of the joy with which the Czechoslovaks received the news that the name of Edward Heald had recognized their independence.

"It gave those men new spirit. I have been with them in several engagements and they have proved fine fighters, but they are going to be even better now, for they are fighting for something very dear to all men of the Czech race," he said.

HAD TREE HOUSE.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 11.—Tired of working and desiring to "camp out" where he said he would not be molested by officers intent on enforcing the work or fight order, a man giving the name of Edward Heald was found living in a hollow tree near this city. He had lived in the tree three weeks, subsisting on corn from a nearby field. His registration card showed he was in class I of the draft. He was sent to a hospital.

TRAINED NURSE GIVES RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR

Gives Recipe for Simple Home-Made Remedy That Quickly Darkens It.

Mrs. A. Dixon, a well-known Brooklyn trained nurse, made the following statement regarding gray hair: "Streaked, faded or gray hair can be quickly turned black, brown or light brown by the use of the following remedy: Get a small box of Orle powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extra to buy. Dissolve it in water and comb it through the hair. Pull directions for mixing and use come in each box. "You need not hesitate to use Orle, as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box, guaranteeing the user that Orle does not contain silver, lead, zinc, mercury, aniline, coal-tar products or their derivatives. "It does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."

LISTENING POSTS ARE EARS OF ARMY

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, Dec. 11.—An army has many eyes, and its ears are not far behind. The ears are not so useful as during the day, of course, but when darkness comes the army uses its ears—listening posts here and there beyond the front line. Soldiers crawl, sometimes even within the enemy's lines, and crawl back again before daylight and report what they have heard.

During the day aviators are reporting from time to time after flights, detailing what they have seen beyond the front. From hills, tree tops, high buildings, village church steeples, and various heights, including captive balloons, movements of the enemy are observed by strong glasses in to 15 miles back of the lines. Every movement of troops or equipment seen by an observer is reported. From these reports the command, taking into consideration various other accounts from numerous sources, make their plans for the future.
